Preface

The AACTFest Handbook is a collaboration. The policies, procedures, and rules stated herein have been gleaned from the festival experiences of many people from across the United States, its Territories, and the Armed Services abroad. The Handbook is an ongoing process with revisions at the end of each Festival Cycle. The people who contribute ideas and experiences change from cycle to cycle but in many regards they stay the same: young, old, and in between, from all regions, from all walks of life, from all income brackets, from all sizes of towns and cities, and from all sizes of community theatres.

The purpose of the Handbook is to establish a common ground for all festivals that lead to the national AACTFest. By knowing what is expected, companies progressing from level to level can experience some continuity and do what they do best.

Anyone who has ideas or experiences to make the festival cycle run more smoothly should send them to the Festival Commission Chair, any of the other Commission Members, or the AACT office. This input will be considered for the next Handbook revision.

The 2007 festival cycle marked an important change in the National Festival with the addition of a twelfth show. Details are included at the end of Section 2.01.

The 2009 festival cycle will allow the national adjudicators to participate in a limited number of state festivals, and will test alternatives in regional festival participation and adjudication format at state and regional festivals. You may find details in Sections 5.02, 2.01, and 5.05, respectively.

“Changing Faces,” the AACTFest logo, was inspired by a performance of the great French mime, Marcel Marceau. Monsieur Marceau performed on a totally black stage, and he himself, was dressed in black with a long flowing black cape. The lights were directed solely on his head, and as he performed, he used the cape to sweep across his masked face and when the cape came down, a new mask was in its place. The masks just seemed to fall away, which made the artist think how much this represented the continually changing faces of the characters in theatre.

The design was originally created as a logo by Elinor Hawkins for the 1979 Festival of the American Community Theatre Association (FACT).

AACTFest Goals

- To provide an optimum learning experience through festival entry at state, regional, and national levels, which affirm, support, and nurture community theatre companies as they strive toward excellence in theatrical production.
- To stimulate and inspire community theatre companies to strive for the best work possible and to recognize them for their achievement through an appropriate adjudication process.
- To provide learning experiences in artistic, technical, and management areas for people in attendance through performances, adjudication, and workshops.
- To develop enlightened and discerning audiences for community theatre.

Many criteria are in place to achieve the aforementioned goals. Among the most significant are:

- All theatre companies must meet the same eligibility standards and requirements.
- It is the responsibility of each entering company to read the entire AACTFest Handbook and ensure they are in compliance with all of the rules.
- Maximum time limits are 10 minutes for set-up; 60 minutes for performance; and 10 minutes for strike.
- Qualified and impartial adjudicators are essential to the success and fairness of the festival process.
- All actors, musicians and on-stage personnel must begin setup and end strike either in or immediately adjacent to the on-deck area.
- The festival must be held in a functioning theatre facility.
- A production must be performed in the same form at all festival levels.
- The house must be closed during each performance. It must remain open for setup and strike.
- Adjudicators must not discuss productions before the first ballot.
- The Festival Commission Representative will make the final determination in all matters of dispute during a festival.

Refer to the remainder of this handbook for specific information.

1.01 Festival Commission

The festival process that culminates in a national theatre festival sponsored by the American Association of Community Theatre (AACT) and entitled AACTFest is held in odd-numbered years. AACTFest presents a forum for community theatres from the ten regions of AACT to enter productions for adjudication and advancement from the state level to the regional level and finally, to the national level.

This festival process is regulated by AACT through the Vice-President for Festivals, an elected officer of the American Association of Community Theatre, the Festival Commission Chair, and the Festival Commission of the American Association of Community Theatre.

The Festival Commission consists of a chair, adjudication chair, recorder, technical chair, current national festival chair(s), one standing committee (adjudication), Festival Commission Representatives, and such other at-large members as might be appointed.

The Adjudication Committee selects adjudicators for the National AACTFest, suggests possible adjudicators at other levels and advises the Festival Commission Chair in matters related to adjudication.

The National AACTFest Chair produces a specific national festival, works and coordinates with other committees and reports to the Festival Commission Chair.

The AACT Staff receives and processes festival information, produces participation certificates for companies entering state and regional festivals, confirms AACT membership and fee payment status of entering companies, and provides other support and information as needed to the Vice-President for Festivals, the AACT Festival Commission and its Chair, Adjudication Committee Chair, Recorder, Technical Chair, and the Festival Chairs.

The official name for the festival process is AACTFest. The first five (5) letters are capitalized and the last three (3) letters are lower case. The name is eight (8) continuous letters with no intervening spaces or punctuation marks.

Festival Commission Representatives will be appointed by the Festival Commission Chair to attend state and regional festivals. The Festival Commission Representative will:

- Conduct the Technical Meeting(s), attend rehearsals and performances
- Conduct the Adjudication Orientation
- Be the ballot-tallying officer
- Provide other assistance for the festival as needed
- Read scripts prior to festival

In matters of dispute during the festival, the Festival Commission Representative will make the final ruling. Any questions or discussion of disqualification should be made through the Festival Commission Representative. The Festival Commission Representative will check each production's time with the official festival timekeepers and, if a violation occurs, take appropriate measures at tallying. (Refer to Section 5.03 for further information)

Festival registration fees are waived for the Festival Commission Representative.

This representative shall not be connected with any competitive production entered in the festival to which he/she has been appointed.

The Festival Commission Representatives will be the official liaisons between state and regional festivals and AACT. It is the responsibility of the Representative to confirm with the host festival chair that all entering companies have complied with all regulations and are eligible to perform in the festival.

(Refer to AACTFest Form M for a checklist of Festival Commission Representative responsibilities)

A fund was established in 1985 to help defray travel expenses for companies advancing to the National or international festivals. Over the years this Endowment Fund has grown substantially from contributions and special fundraising events. The Endowment Fund Trustees oversee the fund which provides grants to the companies.

In 2009 each company entering the National Festival (AACTFest '09 - Tacoma, Washington) will receive a $3,000.00 grant from the Endowment.

Theatre Companies

Any amateur theatre organized for at least one year prior to the state festival, which has produced at least two shows prior to the state festival entry, and is governed by a board from the community, is eligible to enter the festival process. Companies from city or county recreational departments, universities, colleges, military bases, etc. must have a governing board from the community, separate from the umbrella organization. Ideally, any theatre meeting these criteria should be able to enter a state (or district) festival without any prior selection process. Fairly administered limits on the number of performing theatres for festivals, due to resource constraints, are acceptable.

Methods other than a festival, such as a traveling adjudicator, for selecting a production to represent a state at the regional festival may be acceptable if the Festival Commission Chair grants prior permission. States may combine for festivals if adjudicators make their selections by state. If a state has no festival or other selection method, but a theatre wishes to enter that state's regional festival, the theatre may apply to the Festival Commission Chair for an appointment to the regional festival with a recommendation from their Regional Representative. Upon appointment, the company may represent the state with its production at the regional festival if all other requirements for participation have been fulfilled. A state theatre association may petition that no entry from its state be appointed.

At some point prior to the festival, the director should explain to the cast and crew that following the performance and strike, there will be a public adjudication. It should be explained that the purpose of the adjudication is not to criticize or denigrate a production, but to offer possible suggestions on what might be improved. It should be a constructive learning experience for the cast, crew, and audience.

The productions selected to proceed from the state festivals are the entered productions for the regional festivals. If for some reason a production that has been selected to proceed cannot do so, the production ranked next in the balloting will proceed. If the regional association agrees, state festivals with ten or more entered companies may send two productions to the regional festival. This option must be adopted by the regional organization prior to the first state festival in that region. Once this option is invoked it remains in effect unless subsequently revoked by the regional association.

For AACTFest '09, only, regions may participate in a test by adopting a rule allowing two productions to proceed from each state festival if a minimum of four companies participate in the respective festival. Appointments will continue to be limited to one. This adaptation must be made at least sixty days before the first state festival begins in the respective region and announced to all states with notification to the national office and the Festival Commission Chair.

The productions selected to proceed from the regional festivals (one each for all regions except Region IV which may have two) are the entered productions for the national festival.

In addition, a twelfth company is selected on an at-large basis in the following manner. At such time as all entering companies at state festivals, each of which has agreed to "go on," are confirmed, the Festival Commission will count the number of companies. This count will be based on the total in each individual state regardless of the number of festivals but limited to eighteen in total. The state numbers will next be totaled by region.

The region with the most eligible entering companies will send the second place company in the Regional Festival to the National Festival. Region IV is not eligible to send an additional company. In the event of a tie in the number of these companies between two or more regions, state totals will be recounted without the eighteen-company limitation per state to break the tie. If a tie still exists, the Commission Chair will supervise a coin flip to determine which region will send another production.

The national host theatre for any particular festival cycle is not allowed to enter a production in the festival process for that cycle.

Company Members

Once a play is in rehearsal for the festival process, actors and technicians may not be paid, directly or indirectly, to rehearse or perform in that production. Members of a theatre's production staff, such as directors, designers, costumers, technical directors, etc., may receive normal remuneration, as long as no additional or bonus dollars are paid specifically for hands on efforts for that production.

Musicians who provide accompaniment for a production may be paid if they do not perform as actors, directly or indirectly. To not be considered an actor, a musician must meet the following criteria:

- They must perform from an orchestra pit, an offstage wing position or an onstage position that is not visible to the audience. Or...

- If visible to the audience, they do not interact in any way, physically, verbally or visually with any member of the cast or audience. Any interaction between musicians must not in any way relate to actions taking place on stage.
- If the theatre does not have an orchestra pit or adequate wing space, the Festival Commission Representative and the Host Technical Director may designate an area for the musicians to perform.

Persons who receive more than twenty-five percent (25%) of an annual “living wage” as income from work as actors in live performances, or are active members of Actors Equity at any time during the festival cycle in which they are to appear, may under no circumstances perform at any level of AACTFest. All performers are required to sign the Affidavit of AACTFest Actor Eligibility. (Refer to AACTFest Form D) This includes musicians who do not meet the above criteria.

2.03

Productions

A production entered in the festival process may be a cutting of a full-length play or musical, a one-act play, or any other performance of a theatrical nature. The total length of the performance may not exceed sixty minutes (including introductions, scene changes, and curtain calls). Anything that brings the audience into the world of the play (music, sound, movement, lights, etc.) will begin the sixty-minute performance time. The complete cessation of such will complete the timing period. If a set-up or strike is intended to set mood, establish character, or entertain the audience in any way, it will be considered part of the sixty-minute performance time.

It is inadvisable to enter material that may require more than fifty-five minutes to perform. Audience response may add time.

The adjudicator(s) will adjudicate performances. Emphasis will be on acting and directing, but final consideration will be the overall realization of the production. Because of difficulties in touring (unfamiliar stage, host technical crew, travel distance, festival lighting, etc.), theatres should consider the technical aspects of performing “on the road” when selecting a show. A blank stage or a complex set can be equally effective, if appropriate to the material selected.

Each theatre is responsible for furnishing any sets, props, or furniture needed for its production. The host theatre may provide standard articles of furniture, if requested to do so in advance. All sets, props, musical instruments, special effects, etc. (everything utilized to present the production) must fit into a storage area that will be a minimum of 100 square feet. Be aware that different spaces will have different height clearances. If planning to “high stack” scenery, be certain to check with the host facilities at all levels for available height. Remember that the storage space may be open on all 4 sides – do not depend on leaning objects against a wall. Perishable or valuable objects should be brought to the storage space immediately prior to the performance and removed thereafter.

The rules and laws governing the use of weapons, pyrotechnics and special effects vary greatly from location to location. Do not assume that because it is allowed in one facility, that it can be used in others. Even things as innocuous as cigarettes and candles can be a problem. Weapons are especially problematic, with real guns (even if not fired) often presenting special difficulties.

To be safe, companies should check with the festival venue as to any rules that may govern special effects. It may be the case that certain items can be used, but only with proper checkout by local authorities. Be aware that this checkout, which may include demonstrations that require additional supplies, will probably not be during the scheduled rehearsal time. While the host facility should publish the necessary rules, it is ultimately the responsibility of the performing company to check as to whether or not a specific item is permissible.

Each production is allowed a maximum of ten minutes set-up time and ten minutes strike time, with timing beginning and ending with all actors, musicians, and on-stage personnel either in or, if necessary, immediately adjacent to the 100 square foot on-deck area. For setup, the entire company will assemble in the designated area. When ready, the company spokesperson will signal the festival stage manager (or their designee) who will announce “go” loudly enough for all timing personnel to hear. The company will proceed with their setup. When finished, all company personnel must assemble back at the start area. When all have reassembled, the company spokesperson will again signal the festival stage manager who will announce, “stop.” At this point no other action may take place on stage until the start of the performance.

Light and sound operators are exempt and are allowed to remain in their respective operations areas at the end of set-up, if they have traveled there for setup/final checks and if not involved in setup or strike. However, any lighting and/or sound checks must be completed within the 10-minute setup time. Light and sound operators may also finish setup with the rest of the company and travel to their operational locations the same as the actors are allowed to get into “places.”

After the performance, strike will proceed using the same procedure as was used for setup. Strike may begin with the lighting and/or sound operators in their operational positions or the company may wait for them to join the rest of the company at the on-deck area. This choice is at the company’s discretion, but must be consistent before and after the performance. It is the responsibility of the company to ensure the stage floor is left in the same or better condition than it was when the setup began. This may include wet mopping, if necessary. Nothing may be put on the stage floor that cannot be adequately removed within the allotted strike time. Care should be taken not to disturb succeeding shows’ spike tape. (It is recommended that spike tape not be removed by the company during strike.)

The “production process” (set-up, performance, strike) should continue without significant delay until complete. Individual productions may hold for any unused set-up time.

Should a performance exceed any time limits, the performance will not be stopped nor will an announcement be made. Adjudicators will comment as scheduled. Timekeepers will notify the Festival Commission Representative who will disqualify the company from selection to proceed. (Refer to Section 6.06)

Immediately after the strike, company members will normally be seated in the first two rows of seats in the auditorium for the adjudication.

Each theatre may enter only one production in only one state in any given festival cycle. Theatres may showcase other productions with the permission of the Festival Chair. Any production that is selected to proceed or participates in a regional festival in a given festival cycle may not be reentered in the next festival cycle.

Productions selected to proceed must be performed in the same form at all levels. Adjustments in staging may be made to allow for differences in stage facilities and for integrating adjudicator suggestions, but material may not be added or withdrawn. Actor, production staff, or technician substitutions may not be made without written consent from the Festival Commission Chair. Substitution requests must be for legitimate hardships and not to change the show.

Requirements

Every theatre must, at each level, provide the following to the festival chair well before the festival begins:

- Proof of permission to perform the property from the leasing agent and/or author.

Note: It is wise to obtain performance permission for all three levels prior to the state festival.

- Proof of permission to perform the property as cut or altered.
- Warranty that the theatre has obtained all other necessary rights. (Refer to AACTFest Form E)
- Four copies of the performance script as intended to be performed -- cuts must be marked. Five copies of the script are necessary for the National Festival. Do not photocopy any scripts without proper permission. (This does not mean that scripts available only in anthologies cannot be copied if permission to copy is received.)
- Entry and registration fees as required by specific festivals
- Affidavits of AACTFest Eligibility for each performer. (Refer to AACTFest Form D)
- Festival Entry/Information sheet. (Refer to AACTFest Form B)
- Technical Information Form. (Refer to AACTFest Form C)
- Program information.
- Membership in state/regional associations and any other local applicable fees as required by the particular festival.
- A festival fee equal to the amount of the lowest AACT Organizational membership made payable to AACT (prior to state festival only). This fee is waived for AACT members. Organizational membership in AACT is required at the regional and national levels.

Failure to comply with the AACTFest rules may be grounds for disqualification. This includes, but is not limited to, failure to follow the terms of the licensing agreement. It is ultimately the entering theatre's responsibility to ensure that all documentation has been obtained and submitted to the Festival Chair. If there are questions, they may be addressed to the Festival Chair, the Festival Commission Representative, or the Festival Commission Chair at any time.

Participation in the National Festival allows companies or theatres to express interest in international opportunities, and facilitates the International Committee's opportunity to view and recommend productions to the attention of international festivals. However, no production can be guaranteed an invitation, nor are such committee recommendations linked to the actual placement at the National Festival.

Owing to the timing of international festivals, the preference of such festival organizers for certain specific types of productions, travel cost considerations, and the ability of companies to keep their production together for the required amount of time, the committee may from time to time seek to make recommendations from regional festivals as well as the National Festival.

Interested companies who participate at the Regional Festival are requested to prepare and submit the form provided by the International Committee for inclusion in the Regional packet.

3.01

Overview

The Festival Chair is responsible for the co-ordination of a specific festival and must have a complete understanding of the entire process. A guidebook to assist the host with festival logistics is available for download from the AACT website and from the AACT office. (Ask for A Guide for Hosting AACTFest.) Although some of the states and regions provide festival chairs additional support and resources, this section assumes that the chair is solely responsible for the entire festival. Once a chair has been selected, he/she must:

- Contact the AACT office to request Chair packet & confirm contact information.
- Read the entire AACTFest Handbook. The Handbook can be photocopied, downloaded from the AACT website (www.aact.org), or acquired from the AACT office.
- Refer to the Form Submission Checklist (AACTFest Form A) and send the appropriate forms to the AACT Office in a timely manner.
- Select a festival date. State festivals must be before March 29, 2009, and sufficiently prior to the regional festival date so that the state production selected to proceed will have adequate time to prepare. Regional festivals must be completed by May 3, 2009. Check the community calendar for conflicts, as a major event scheduled on the same date could create problems with air travel, crowded restaurants, over-booked hotels, etc. Contact the AACT Office for AACT Board meeting dates to avoid conflicts.
- Arrange for a theatre facility that meets all the requirements of Section 4.00 of the AACTFest Handbook, Technical Specifications.
- If the theatre facility does not have a Technical Director who can be utilized for the festival, select a competent Technical Director. Ensure that the Technical Director has a copy of the AACTFest Handbook.
- Determine a hotel to be used as the “festival hotel.” A convention rate, less than the hotel’s normal rates, can usually be obtained by working with only one hotel instead of a list of area hotels.
- Make sure meeting rooms are available for all meetings, workshops, parties, etc. that are held in conjunction with the festival.

- Prepare a budget. It should include the expected income and expense for all aspects of the festival.
- Organize committees for all aspects of the festival. Delegate work and decision making to the proper committee chairs. The broader the base of workers, the easier the chair's job.
- Secure adjudicators as soon as possible. Remember the importance of qualified adjudicators to the success of your festival. Send contract and other materials per Section 3.06.
- Appoint two timekeepers and discuss timing regulations with them. Confirm timekeepers are provided with stopwatches, clipboards and the AACTFest Timing Form prior to or at the adjudication orientation meeting.
- For state festivals, mail information outlining the festival process as a whole to all community theatres in the state, ideally 6 or more months before the festival. Included should be copies of or reference to Section 2.00 of the AACTFest Handbook, festival specifics such as the city, theatre, dates, hotel, costs, etc., and an entry form with an entry deadline. The entry deadline is typically 1 to 2 months before the festival. Festival chairs can obtain mailing lists of theatres in their state/region from the AACT office.
- Regional chairs will have a predetermined entry list, but should still mail either a brochure or the festival specifics as a flyer to all theatres in the region.
- Immediately upon receipt of an entering theatre's AACTFest Entry Information form (see AACTFest Form B) or similar form, copy the AACT office. The office will send a complete 2009AACTFest Handbook to the theatre. It is imperative that entering theatres and Technical Directors have the Handbook as soon as possible. (State festival only.)
- Schedule rehearsals, performances, workshops, parties and the awards ceremony.

Provide showcase performances to round out the festival schedule, if desired. Showcases may be adjudicated, but not ranked to proceed.

The Festival Commission is a resource in this process. Contact the Festival Commission Chair for any questions, and/or to request specific help in regard to scheduling, finding adjudicators, technical issues, etc. You don't need to reinvent the wheel by yourself.

Scheduling

Immediately after the state deadline, but in no case less than twenty-five days prior to the first scheduled performance of the festival, typically when the number of productions entered is known, complete and distribute a schedule; include standard items:

- Performance Days And Times, including time for performance and adjudication of all entries in the festival. Productions are normally presented in blocks of two or more. It is inadvisable to announce starting times for other productions within a block. After the first production's adjudication, the next production should proceed with set-up, keeping the festival moving. Companies must be warned of possible or likely earlier starting times. No announcements should be made between performances. See Section 3.07 for more information regarding announcements.

- A Technical Meeting must be held with each company. The Festival Commission Representative and the Technical Director must be present. The Festival Chair may attend. This session must be held prior to each company's rehearsal time with no other groups present. (Refer to AACTFest Form N)
- Dressing Room Availability Dressing room(s) will be available for each company a minimum of 1 hour prior to its set-up time.
- Load-in and Load-out Time Slots for each entering company to move sets, props, etc. into and out of the theatre. This must be a time separate from the rehearsal time.
- Rehearsal/Technical Time of 80 minutes for each company in the performance space. The rehearsal time includes set-up from and strike to the on-deck area of all show related items. This time will be in reasonable proximity to the performance time. Rehearsal attendance will be restricted to the company in rehearsal, the festival technical staff, the Festival Chair, the Festival Commission Representative, and any other personnel requested by the rehearsing company. No one else will be permitted in the house, on the stage, in the control booths, or in the backstage area during this rehearsal period without the specific permission of the rehearsing company, the Festival Chair and the Festival Commission Representative.

Confirm with the AACT office the list of entering companies and performance order.

A random drawing is often held to determine performance order of a state festival. The order of the drawing will be the performance order for the festival. It may be necessary to set up multiple possible schedules if the exact number of productions is not known at the time of the drawing. Individual companies may agree to exchange "slots" in this performance order, if desired, subject to approval by the Festival Chair. If two productions of the same play are scheduled back-to-back by the luck of the draw, the Festival Chair may change the schedule.

At the regional level the timetable and performance order will be scheduled by random drawing prior to the dates of the earliest state festival of the region. Possible "ten show" states should be anticipated in the drawing, or one entry from each "ten show" state (Refer to Section 2.01) may be added to the beginning of the performance order as can shows added under 2009's test rule, if necessary.

A random drawing to determine production order for the National Festival is held in February of the preceding even-numbered year. (Refer to AACTFest Form T)

3.03

Company Packets

Distribute to all entering companies a packet giving all times, dates, places, and other information. This should include:

- The deadline for sending all materials required by Section 2.04 of the AACTFest Handbook.
- Names with addresses, e-mail addresses, phone numbers and/or fax numbers of Festival Chair and Technical Director.
- Tentative schedule, to be updated when number of entries is known.
- Registration information for the festival and the hotel.
- Floor plan of the theatre and stage.
- Theatre technical specs.
- Light plot.
- Maps and city information.

Regional packets with the aforementioned information for the Regional Festival will be prepared by the Regional Festival Chair and sent to the State Festival Chair(s) prior to the State Festival if the Regional Festival is within ninety days of the State Festival, otherwise ninety days or more before the Regional Festival. The state chair will deliver it to the company (or companies) whose productions have been selected to proceed to the Regional Festival.

The National Festival Chair will prepare National packets with the aforementioned information. This information will be distributed to each national festival company after their Regional Festival is completed, but not earlier than February 1, 2009.

Entering Theatre Support

The Festival Chair should try to ascertain that each theatre entered in the festival, and all the company members are in compliance with the rules and policies as set forth in this AACTFest Handbook. However, it is ultimately the entering company's responsibility to read the Handbook and ensure that their production is in compliance with all applicable rules.

Rules and laws dealing with the use, handling and possession of special effects materials, pyrotechnics and weapons vary greatly between facilities and locales. Information on the restrictions placed on any types of weapons, flame devices, or special effects equipment will be made available to the entering groups as early as possible. The festival materials sent to the entering groups must supply the name and contact information of someone who can act as the ultimate authority as to what is and what is not allowed.

It is possible that certain equipment, effects, or props may be used only after a special checkout or inspection is done at the site of the festival. In this case, the host group will be responsible for scheduling such inspections. This does not need to occur within the group's scheduled rehearsal time but at a time convenient for everyone. Further, the scheduling must not create any undue hardship for the entering company.

A local host for each company should be provided. This host will be an individual who can find answers to the variety of questions a visiting company may ask. The host should greet the company upon arrival and be available throughout the festival. Ideally, the host will not be associated with any company entering the festival.

Required Program Insert

AACT requires all festival programs to include basic information regarding censorship, production timing, and adjudicator guidelines and criteria for consideration. The entire text of the required insert is included as AACTFest Form K.

A plain text (.txt) file is available to save re-keying information. The file is available for download from the AACT website or by e-mail from the AACT office.

3.06

Adjudicators

Refer to Section 5.00 — Adjudication, for complete information.

Festival Chairs must provide the adjudicators with:

- A copy of Section 5.00 (Adjudication) and AACTFest Form H (Adjudicator Responsibilities) of the AACTFest Handbook.
- A copy of each script, to be read in advance, as intended to be performed.
- An Adjudication Orientation meeting. (See section 5.05)
- A reserved seat in the house. (See section 5.05 for specific details)
- Paper, writing utensil, clipboard, and light.
- A quiet place to prepare comments before adjudications with beverages available.
- A local host who will be available for the entire festival to meet the adjudicator upon arrival, see that he/she has transportation, gets meals, is where he/she is supposed to be, and sees him/her off afterwards.
- Round trip travel expenses.
- Hotel accommodations.
- Festival schedules and programs.
- Ballots with the show names pre-printed.
- Free admission to all sessions, meals, and functions of the festival, except special fundraising events.
- A list of awards they are expected to determine. (Note: It is not necessary to give an award if the adjudicators feel there was no one/no production deserving of that specific award. Awards should recognize outstanding work and should not be given just to give everyone an award.)

Festival Chairs should provide the adjudicators with:

- A contract with conditions of service spelled out. (Refer to AACTFest Form I)
- An honorarium.

Festival Chairs must make certain the adjudicators can be seen and heard during the adjudication — a microphone and lighting will be necessary.

Prior to the first performance, Adjudicator Evaluation forms (Refer to AACTFest Form J) must be given to:

- The director (or their representative) of each presenting company.
- At least five festival attendees willing to complete the evaluation and who agree to see eighty percent of all the performances and hear all the respective adjudications.

These forms should have adjudicator names filled in before distribution.

These evaluation forms must be completed and returned to the Festival Chair before the awards announcement. The Festival Chair must send these to the AACT Office immediately following the festival. (Refer to Section 3.09 Wrap-up)

3.07

Announcements

All opening remarks, festival announcements, and introductions must be made either prior to the set-up of the first production in the performance block or after strike and adjudication of the last show in the performance block. Any voice-overs or live comments shall not conflict, delay, or interrupt the production process (set-up, performance, strike).

The Festival Chair or Festival Commission Representative should briefly explain the timing and adjudication rules to the audience at the beginning of each block of performances.

Awards

At the state and regional levels the AACT office will provide the Festival Chair with certificates of participation suitable for framing for all entering theatres. Regional entries should also receive a plaque from the festival host for participation.

The productions ranked “1,” “2,” and “3” (if announced) should receive an award other than a certificate, such as a plaque or statue. Ten show (or more) festivals should not announce “1” and “2”; rather that two productions are selected to proceed.

At state and regional festivals, a minimum of first and second places should be announced at every festival, except in cases where there are three or fewer festival entries. Third place should only be publicly announced at festivals with five or more entries.

Each festival may choose what, if any, special awards to present. In the festival spirit, it is recommended that wording on the awards be for “Excellence In...” or for “Outstanding Work In...” Awards should always mean that something about a given production has been worthy of mention. Awards should never be passed out just because a company has performed in the festival. It is recommended that adjudicators have discretion in determining the minimum and maximum number of awards. A list of awards used at the national festival is included as AACTFest Form S.

Wrap-up

State festival chairs must, immediately after announcement of awards, deliver Regional packets to the company(ies) selected to proceed to the regional festival. The chair must confirm the director of the production or company spokesperson understands that he/she is assuming responsibility for becoming familiar with the contents of the packet, completing the forms, and returning them to the regional festival chair before the deadlines. Packets are described in Section 3.03.

The State Festival Chair must immediately inform both the AACT Office and regional chair of the production(s) selected to proceed.

The Regional Festival Chair must immediately inform both the AACT Office and national chair of the production selected to proceed. The National Festival Chair will immediately confirm that the production selected to proceed to the National Festival has received the National packet.

State and regional festival chairs must send the following to the AACT Office immediately after the festival concludes:

- The Final Festival Report. (Refer to AACTFest Form L)
- Two copies of all programs from the festival
- Names and biographies of adjudicators
- Adjudicator evaluations
- PR information (clippings, etc.)
- Other information as requested

4.00 Technical Specifications

- 4.01 Facilities
- 4.02 Personnel
- 4.03 Lights
- 4.04 Sound
- 4.05 Scenic Devices
- 4.06 Technical Meeting

4.01

Facilities

The Festival Chair and host must provide a proper theatre facility, one that is primarily intended for theatrical performances. The stage of the theatre is required to be in working order and fitted to mount a production.

Hosting organizations should request participants indicate required accommodations and requests for special assistance.

All theatre facilities must be immediately accessible to the Festival Chair and Festival Commission Representative at all times during the run of the festival including during the performances. These facilities may include (but are not limited to) backstage, dressing rooms, light, sound and other control booths.

The Technical Director will allot each entrant a minimum of 100 square feet of off-stage storage. No penalty or disqualification will be made to an entering theatre if the state, regional and national host theatres do not all have the same storage provisions. Some flexibility may be needed to handle problems in this regard.

The company will be permitted to pre-assemble any portion of the set on site during load-in, or other pre-agreed times available to all companies, provided that the assembled scenery does not exceed the allotted storage space, and the process does not interfere with any other entrant or the reasonable rules of the host. Any assembly that cannot be accomplished during load-in or the pre-agreed times will need to be done during the company's rehearsal time.

Items that are perishable or have extreme value (foodstuffs, cameras, musical instruments, etc.) may be removed from the storage area for safekeeping and replaced just prior to setup. Any group wishing to do this must clear the items with the host Tech Director and the Festival Commission Representative who will explain the proper procedure and timing. All real weapons and pyrotechnics must be stored under lock and key or removed from the facility.

If the storage areas are in close proximity to the playing area, setup and strike may take place from the storage areas. If the storage areas are removed from the playing area or different groups' storage areas are at significantly different distances from the playing area, the scenery may be moved to a more convenient "staging area" prior to the 10-minute setup.

Safety procedures and reasonable policies of the host theatre are to be followed at all times.

Personnel

Each festival, at all levels, must have a designated technical director, host stage manager, two timekeepers (one backstage; one in the house), equipment operator(s), and such other personnel as necessary to keep the festival moving in a timely order. While light and sound operation by performing groups is at the host's option, there must be someone capable of running the equipment, if necessary, and present at all rehearsals and performances.

4.03

Lights

The use of a basic festival lighting plot will be provided for all entering companies. This plot may not be altered in any respect including, but not limited to, instrument location, focus area and gel color. The basic plot will include:

- A minimum of six (6) individually controlled cool and warm wash areas which are eight (8) to ten (10) feet in size.
- Any additional instrumentation necessary to completely illuminate the playing area.
- Two followspots
- Additional instrumentation may be provided as part of the basic plot at the discretion of the host.

Performing companies may have lighting needs that go beyond the basic festival plot. Special lighting, within certain limits, is permitted, but companies need to remember that on-stage rehearsal time will be limited to no more than eighty (80) minutes and any special lighting will need to be setup during that time block. Be aware that there are specific rules concerning the use of lighting specials:

- Lighting specials are limited to six (6) instruments which may use no more than six (6) circuits, dimmers and/or control channels.
- An exception to the six instrument rule may be made for instrumentation intended to be used in sets such as strip lights. However the six (6) circuit / dimmer / control channel rule will still apply. If you have a situation you believe should be an exception, contact the Host Technical Director and the Festival Commission Representative for approval prior to the festival.
- If it is necessary to re-plug, re-aim, and/or re-gel instruments between performances, this will be done by the host staff and will be done prior to the production company's setup. Any re-plugging error by the host staff discovered during the company's setup may be corrected without the use of the performing company's setup time.
- All instrumentation for lighting specials must be approved by the Host Technical Director.
- The producing company is ultimately responsible for providing instrumentation for any lighting specials. The host may, at their discretion, provide instrumentation to the companies but every company must have access to the same selection of lighting instruments.

- It is the producing company's responsibility to ensure that any instrumentation not provided by the host has electrical connections compatible with the host facility's equipment.
- Lighting specials must be able to be setup during the company's rehearsal period. The host may, at their discretion, setup specials prior to the company's rehearsal so long as the same level of accommodation is provided to all groups.
- Lighting specials may be connected and left in place between a company's rehearsal and performance unless the Host Technical Director determines that the placement may be detrimental to other companies. If this is the case, the specials must either be relocated or they will need to be setup and struck during the producing company's ten (10) minute setup and ten (10) minute strike time.
- If a company elects to supplement the host facility's lighting equipment with portable control consoles, etc., specials will still be subject to the six (6) instrument / circuit / dimmer / channel rule. The equipment, including any necessary power or control cables, must be set up during the company's rehearsal period. The Host Technical Director will determine whether the placement of any or all of the equipment is detrimental to other companies. If so, the designated equipment must be set-up and struck during the standard set-up and strike time.

The host facility control system may not be used for the control of any DMX dependent equipment, including, but not limited to, automated lighting fixtures. In this context, DMX will be construed to mean any computer control protocol (MIDI< ACN, etc.). The only exception to this is if the equipment is part of the basic festival light plot supplied by the festival host. Should a performing company wish to use other DMX controlled equipment, they must provide their own control mechanism. This setup will be subject to the same rules as supplementary lighting equipment.

Computer controlled lighting consoles are becoming increasingly prevalent at all levels of AACTFest production. For companies unfamiliar with computerized consoles or the specific console being used, user manuals are often available on the manufacturers' websites and can be an invaluable resource. In addition, the host is responsible to ensure someone is available to assist companies and/or to run the console for them. Companies unfamiliar with computer lighting consoles should be aware that in addition to light levels, the console may also store and control fade times. It is the company's responsibility to do one of the following:

- Program fade times for each cue
- Learn how to run cues manually (if possible)
- Run the show with the default fade times

The host theatre may elect to program cues for the entering companies prior to their scheduled rehearsal times subject only to offering this opportunity to all performing companies. The host may set reasonable conditions for this service, for example, a specific deadline for submission of cue parameters prior to the festival. It remains the company's responsibility to ensure that the cues have been programmed correctly and the proper set of cues has been loaded into the lighting console for their performance.

The host theatre at all levels must have a functioning sound system with a minimum of:

- A cassette player.
- A CD player.
- House speakers.
- A means of communication between the light booth, the sound booth, backstage and the spotlight positions.
- A mixing board capable of accommodating the available sound sources.
- A house microphone for use by both the companies and the adjudicators.

If a company elects to supplement existing equipment, the company's equipment may be set up during the company's rehearsal period and the host technical director will determine whether or not the placement of such equipment or accessories is detrimental to other companies. If so deemed, the equipment must be set up and struck within the standard set-up and strike times.

If the host facility offers any optional equipment to any company, it must be made available to every company.

There is no limit to the number of sound bites or effects that may be used during the performance but any sound effect devices, such as a door unit that is used for a "slamming" sound during the performance, must be set up and struck during the set-up and strike times. Any special sound effects are the sole responsibility of the company.

No scenic devices may be hung, placed, or positioned in the playing area prior to the set-up. Scenic devices used for creating special effects have no limit, but must be provided by the company. The host facility must approve scenic devices that require set up in the "house" of the theatre. The host may override placement of any special devices if deemed a hazard. The devices may be set up during the company's technical rehearsal. The Host Technical Director may determine that a scenic element should stay in place to prevent potential injury, and may allow a scenic element to stay hung, for example, as long as it is not detrimental to other companies.

If a company has equipment that needs significant time to warm up (fog machines for example) the equipment should be stored at the edge of the company's storage area and arrangements made with the Host Technical Director to initiate the warm up process.

As theatre technology advances, there may be occasions where it is questionable exactly how a piece of equipment should be classified. An example is a video or slide projector. Should it be considered a scenic device, which must be positioned during set up, or is it a lighting device, which may be positioned during rehearsal and allowed to remain? If there is a question or to get a ruling, contact the Festival Chair, and ask them to get a ruling from the Festival Commission. In one specific case it was determined that the projector was more closely related to a lighting instrument and could be dealt with according to the rules for lighting specials.

A technical meeting must be held with each company prior to that company's rehearsal time. The session must be held in the theatre and should include a tour of the entire host facility. The Festival Commission Representative conducts the meeting in conjunction with the Host Technical Director.

Each facility and festival is unique, and as such, adaptations may be necessary for local conditions. Most items covered in the technical meeting are a double check on information supplied by the individual companies on the technical questionnaire.

Determine the following information from each company:

- Who is the designated company spokesperson?
- Where will the spokesperson be during the performance?
- What is the approximate length of set-up, performance and strike?
- Did the company bring any supplemental lighting or sound equipment?
- Are any lighting specials needed?
- Will anyone be barefoot on stage?
- Is there any use of matches, candles or other open flame?
- Is there any use of real or simulated weapons?
- Will there be any use of smoke, fog or haze machines?
- Are there any pyrotechnics or other special effects?
- Is AC power needed on stage?
- Are microphones needed?
- Are any special effects, equipment, or devices to be pre-set at rehearsal?
- Are curtains to be utilized and, if so, when?
- Will the company begin the performance immediately following set-up or wait the full 10 minutes?
- How does the show begin and end?
- Will someone be calling or prompting the show?
- Will any actors use the house for entrances or exits?
- Will the lighting and/or sound operators participate in setup or strike?

The following information should be announced to the company:

- Times and procedures for loading in and out of the theatre, if not earlier directed.
- Location and assignment of storage area and dressing room(s).
- Location of on-deck and smoking areas.
- Rehearsal and performance times.
- Times and locations of all festival activities.
- Review of festival production procedures and policies.
- Review of rules.

Any questions should be answered.

5.00 Adjudication

- 5.01 Overview
- 5.02 Selection
- 5.03 Responsibilities
- 5.04 Guidelines
- 5.05 Orientation

5.01

Overview

Adjudicators must be individuals with a wide range of theatrical training and experience. Adjudicators view each festival production and share their reactions with the participants and audience. Comments within the AACT Guidelines are allowed. (Refer to Section 5.04 for complete guidelines)

Do not underestimate the importance of selecting qualified adjudicators. Articulate and objective adjudicators can provide an exceptional learning experience for all present.

It is important to have the adjudicators sign a contract specifying what is expected of them (see AACTFest Form I). The Festival Commission will help you in your search but does not recommend or endorse adjudicators. For assistance, contact the Festival Commission Adjudication Chair.

5.02

Selection

State Adjudicators are selected by the state festival committee or chair. Help may be requested from the Festival Commission Chair or Adjudication Committee Chair. States may use one to three adjudicators; however it is preferable that three are used. It is strongly recommended that at least one adjudicator be from out of state. Anyone connected with a theatre entered in the festival may not be utilized.

Regional Adjudicators are selected by the regional festival committee or chair. Regional festivals must use three adjudicators. It is strongly recommended that at least one adjudicator be from another region. If a person is connected with a theatre that has a festival entry in any state within the region, they may not adjudicate at that regional festival. An adjudicator may not adjudicate both a state festival and its regional festival. Violation of this policy could be grounds for exclusion as an adjudicator at future regional and national festivals.

National Adjudicators are selected by the Festival Commission Adjudication Committee in consultation with the Festival Commission Chair. The AACT Executive Committee will approve adjudicators and an alternate at least 18 months prior to the national festival. The alternate is chosen according to the same criteria and must adhere to the same rules of engagement. The alternate will serve if one of the National Adjudicators withdraws or cannot serve. The Adjudication Committee will provide biographical information on all proposed to the Commission Chair for submission to the AACT Executive Committee prior to the meeting at which it approves the adjudicators. National adjudicators and the alternate may adjudicate up to two state festivals prior to the National Festival, but may not attend other state or regional festivals in the cycle. If a National adjudicator or alternate chooses to adjudicate state festivals, they must be in different regions and may not be in the adjudicator's home region. In any case the Adjudication Chair must be notified immediately if an assignment is accepted.

The Vice President for Festivals and the Festival Commission Chair are not allowed to adjudicate at any level.

Prospective adjudicators at all levels will be sent the Adjudicator Responsibilities and Adjudicator Guidelines before being engaged. If the prospective adjudicator has reservations about any of these responsibilities or guidelines, he/she should not be utilized. It is strongly suggested that adjudicators sign a contract stating what is expected of them and what they should expect in return. A sample contract is included as AACTFest Form I.

Each adjudicator should be provided with transportation, hotel accommodations, food, admission to all festival social events and a local host. An honorarium is recommended.

5.03

Responsibilities

- Adjudicators must read the plays to be presented before the festival. The Festival Chair will provide copies of the scripts as intended to be performed on a timely basis.
- Adjudicators may be asked to fill out an evaluation of the festival.
- Each adjudicator will have a specified period of time immediately following the performance to comment on the performance. The festival chair will determine the duration. Under most circumstances it will be between 5 and 10 minutes. These comments will be based on the AACT Adjudication Guidelines. Companies may tape the adjudicators' comments about their own performance. Adjudications are open to all festival attendees. No private sessions may be held until after the awards are announced.
- Adjudicators will not discuss the festival plays with anyone, including other adjudicators, until after the first balloting.
- Adjudicators' personal likes and dislikes as to authors and material are not to play any part in the adjudication process. Persons who cannot overcome an aversion to certain authors or plays during the festival must not adjudicate.

- Adjudicators will be required to rank the productions in numerical order. The balloting shall be conducted by the Festival Commission Representative with the adjudicators ranking each production in order of preference with the most fully realized performance being “1,” the next “2,” etc., on the Adjudicator’s Ballot form (AACTFest Form Q). A majority vote of the adjudicators will determine the ranking.

The first ballot will be taken after the final production’s adjudication, without discussion and before any other awards are determined. If a majority vote is established on the first ballot for the “1,” “2,” and “3” positions, the adjudicators may then proceed to discussion of other awards. If there is no majority vote for the “1” position, discussion may then take place before the next ballot. The “1” position must be determined before the “2” and “3” positions are determined. If on the first ballot the “1” position is determined, that position is finalized; the “1” production may not be moved to a lower position because of discussion. If on the first ballot the “2” and “3” positions have a majority vote but the “1” does not, the “2” and “3” positions are not finalized and may be moved to other positions because of discussion. If any of the productions are not eligible to proceed for any reason, the tally sheet (AACTFest Form R) should reflect that company’s ineligibility to proceed. Particular festivals, especially festivals with ten or more shows, may wish to continue the ranking process beyond the “3” position. Ties are not allowed; if necessary, the Festival Commission Representative will be the tiebreaker.

Guidelines

Plays are to be adjudicated based on the overall performance with acting and directing as the major elements. All types of productions (comedy, drama, original works, musicals, revues, avant-garde, “controversial,” etc.) are acceptable entries to the festival and must be considered on a similar basis, with the best production being the one most fully realizing all production values and criteria. Technical competence is to be given consideration as to its effectiveness as an integral part of the total production experience.

Each performing company has a maximum of 10 minutes to set-up, 60 minutes to perform, and 10 minutes to strike. Each has a free choice of material (a one-act, a cutting, a selected act, etc.). Adjudicators may not question the choice, except as to its appropriateness for the company; they may only comment on how it was performed.

Among the criteria to be considered are:

- Is the acting believable and technically skillful with effective timing?
- Are the characters well interpreted?
- Does the company display ensemble work?
- Is the material appropriate for the company?
- Is the concept appropriate for the material and realized by the company?
- Has the structure of the production been controlled?
- Are the movements and stage pictures effective?
- Is the production well paced?
- Do the technical elements support the overall production?
- How effective was the total impact?

Focus is to be placed on positive solutions to problems the companies have with production issues by suggesting alternative possibilities. Productions may go on to other festivals, and the companies should be able to benefit by incorporating the adjudicators' comments. CAUTION: The adjudicator should not redirect the show.

Any question of rule violation must be addressed to the Festival Commission Representative, whose decision shall be final. Adjudicators must focus their attention on the performances, not possible rules violations.

Orientation

The Festival Commission Representative (or Festival Commission Chair designee) will conduct an orientation session with the adjudicators. A minimum of one hour should be scheduled for this session with attendance limited to the adjudicators, adjudicator hosts, Festival Chair, Festival Co-Chair or Assistant, Technical Director (or designee) and timekeepers. The session will cover the following mechanics of AACTFest:

- Ascertain that the adjudicators have received, read, and understand the AACT Adjudicator Responsibilities and Guidelines. It is wise to recap the Guidelines. (Refer to Section 5.04 and AACTFest Form H)
- Review the timing regulations to make sure that all present have a clear understanding of the 10 minute set-up time, 60 minute playing time, and 10 minute strike time. (Refer to Section 2.03)
- Inform the adjudicators that timing and rule decisions are not part of their responsibilities.
- Let the adjudicators know that they may watch the production's set-up, but after the performance they should leave the auditorium and retire to a private place to collect their thoughts and review their notes for the adjudication.
- Emphasize that adjudicators must not discuss the festival plays with anyone, including other adjudicators, until after the first ballot and no one else until awards are announced. Adjudicators may have discussion with the Festival Commission Representative if desired or needed.
- Announce the time allowed for each adjudication. Procedure for a one-minute warning should be agreed upon to encourage adjudicators to conclude comments. If an adjudicator would like a longer warning that should also be determined. Adjudicators should not be stopped during adjudication, but they should try to keep within the time allowed, so that in the interest of fairness, all groups get equal time.

- Inform the adjudicators that they will rotate in order as to who goes first, but each adjudication is to be delivered independently. Adjudicators may not hear preceding adjudications, but may hear succeeding ones, if they wish. Remind everyone that the adjudication process is a learning experience for the audience as well as the performing companies. As such, adjudicators should address comments to the entire house as well as the cast and crew of the production just completed. Typically, the production's cast and crew are seated in the first two rows of the house.
For AACTFest '09, only, state and region festivals may participate in a test of panel format adjudication when using three adjudicators. This selection will be made by each festival, not by region. The duration will be 15 to 30 minutes. Except in the panel setting, the adjudicators will continue to be constrained from any discussion of the productions with each other until after the first ballot and with anyone else until the results are announced. The national festival will remain unchanged. The selection must be made on a timely basis and published with other festival details. The Festival Commission Chair must also be immediately notified.
- Private sessions with adjudicators are optional after the awards have been announced.
- Provide the adjudicators a complete list of awards to be considered for presentation. Balloting information should be reviewed and a clear understanding of the process shared by all. Availability of cast pictures during balloting is desirable.
- Explain that adjudicators will be evaluated on their performance. Hand out copies of the form, AACTFest Form J. Any attendee (participant or not) may evaluate the adjudicators if the attendee has seen eighty percent of the performances and the respective adjudications. The evaluations must be done before the awards are announced. The completed forms become the property of AACT and are kept by the AACT office, with copies to the Festival Commission Chair and the Adjudication Committee Chair.
- The AACT office will provide the adjudicators with copies of their evaluations with the names of the evaluators deleted.
- Adjudicators choose their seats in the house. Each must sit in the same seat for the entire festival to provide a consistent vantage point. It is recommended that adjudicators sit in different areas of the theatre for a range of perspectives. Where practical, the seats next to, behind, and in front of the adjudicator should be blocked off.

Since one of the most consistent adjudication criticisms is inability of the audience to hear the comments, adjudicators are required to use a microphone. Presentation lighting on the adjudicator during comment will allow notes to be read.

6.00 Policies

- 6.01 Overview
- 6.02 House
- 6.03 Production
- 6.04 Censorship
- 6.05 Waivers
- 6.06 Disqualification
- 6.07 Handbook

6.01

Overview

AACT's primary festival focus is on the productions. The intent is that the AACTFest rules, guidelines, and decisions are made for the benefit of the entering companies.

6.02

House

The following house policies have been established:

- The host theatre facility's house regulations will apply as pertains to smoking areas, food and beverage consumption, admission of children, etc.
- No recording devices will be allowed in the house except those officially designated by the Festival Chair (which includes groups wishing to record their adjudications). The official photographer may not use any kind of flash or distracting light, and must be as unobtrusive as possible. If a performing group feels that photography will be detrimental to their performance, the group may request an alternative solution from the Festival Chair or Festival Commission Representative.

The house must be closed once performance has begun, but should remain open during set-up and strike.

6.03

Production

The following production policies have been established:

- Companies should set-up with the main curtain open. Set-up may occur behind a closed curtain if a public setup would somehow have a negative impact on a production. It is assumed that this will be an uncommon occurrence and must be cleared with the Festival Commission Representative in advance.

- Once in progress, a performance may be stopped or interrupted for reasons of public safety. A performance may also be stopped or interrupted due to problems with the theatre facility — equipment malfunction, wrong cuebook/disk, etc.— which are temporary in nature and particularly affect the overall quality of the production.
- Only the Festival Commission Representative or the Host Facility Coordinator (this may be the Festival Chair) may determine and declare a Public Safety Problem.
- The designated representative of the company in performance may also declare a problem with the theatre facility. In such a case, the Festival Commission Representative will immediately investigate the seriousness of the problem and the likely impact on the production. If the declaration is denied, the production will be disqualified. In any case, the performance may begin from the beginning or from the point of interruption, at the company's option, subject to local scheduling needs. Problems with the theatre facility should be invoked in only the most outrageous of circumstances. A missed lighting cue, noisy audience member, etc., are not grounds to declare a problem.
- Any declaration must be made while the performance is in progress; no claim will be entertained after the fact.

6.04

Censorship

AACT supports a policy permitting the widest possible range of dramatic material to be performed in a festival of American Community Theatre. Companies are expected to exercise taste, good judgment, and respect for the values of the host theatres.

Host theatres may notify their patrons in advance if they have reason to believe a festival performance may be locally unacceptable, or publish a disclaimer, but in no case may they refuse to allow the company to perform. Should the controlling body of the host theatre forbid said performance in the festival performance space, the host group, with the approval of the Festival Commission Chair, shall provide an alternate performance space of similar caliber.

Waivers

Any request for a waiver of specifications must be submitted in writing to the Festival Commission Chair, and contain adequate detail as to the reason. The request may pertain to facilities, scheduling, adjudication, personnel replacement, etc. The solution must maintain equality for all companies.

Failure to comply with festival rules and requirements will be grounds for disqualification. The decision of the Festival Commission Representative is final. In the situation where a disqualification takes place, no public announcement shall be made.

The Festival Commission Representative will notify the official contact person for the disqualified group by mail with a copy to the Vice President Festivals within one week of the close of the festival. This notification must include a reference to the section of the Handbook dealing with the violation.

The 2009 AACTFest Handbook is available to all at www.aact.org. All Festival Commissioners, Regional Representatives, festival chairs, festival technical directors, and theatres that enter a festival are required to obtain and read the Handbook. If you are unable to download a copy from the website, request a copy from the AACT Office and one will be sent to you.

The AACTFest Handbook will be revised and updated based on the following:

- In June of each odd numbered year, the Festival Commission shall hold a public meeting to solicit comment, input, and experience relating to the most recent festival cycle. Information received before the meeting and the Commission members' observations will be discussed.
- Recommendations will be made on policy issues.
- Further written comment will be taken until August 31 at which point no new changes will be considered.
- The Commission will prepare a revised draft Handbook for approval at the Fall AACT Executive Committee meeting in odd numbered years. Following the Fall Executive Committee meeting, the Handbook will be published.
- No further changes will be made until the festival cycle is complete.
- Earlier editions will no longer be valid.

- Persons who cannot overcome an aversion to certain authors, plays, or subject matter during the festival must not adjudicate
- Adjudicators will be required to rank the productions in a numerical order
- The balloting shall be conducted by the Festival Commission Representative with the adjudicators ranking each production in order of preference with the most fully realized production being "1," the next "2," etc., on the Adjudicator's Ballot form
- The first ballot will be taken after the final production's adjudication, without discussion and before any other awards are determined
- Companies will be permitted to record (audio and/or video) each Adjudicator's public comments

AACTFest Sample Adjudicator's Contract

CONTRACT FOR SERVICES AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY THEATRE

This contract made and entered into on _____, 200__, by and between the ____ (festival host)____, hereinafter referred to as “_xyz_”, and _____ (“Adjudicator”), is fully binding upon both parties to this Contract subject to __ (location state of festival)____ statutes.

1. XYZ hereby contracts with Adjudicator, and Adjudicator hereby agrees to provide for XYZ, adjudication of all entries for the event known as the state or regional festival known as XYZFest'0__ (collectively “Festival”) at the time and place specified. This festival is scheduled for __ (month, day)____, 200__. XYZ expects the adjudicator to arrive in __ (fest site, state)____ on __ (month, day)____, 200__.

2. Adjudicator is required as part of the adjudication process: to read all scripts provided prior to viewing the production of each script; to attend an orientation session prior to the opening session of the Festival; to present public adjudication (5 to 10 minutes in length - length to be confirmed at the Adjudicators' orientation session) immediately following the viewing of each production; and to participate in the selection process for awards.

3. In addition, at the Host Organization's request, Adjudicator agrees to conduct a workshop on a subject in the Adjudicators' area of expertise at a time and place to be determined during the Festival. The Adjudicator agrees to be available for conversation with participants of this festival, including attendance at social functions and the awards ceremony. However, Adjudicator is prohibited from discussing the productions with anyone, except as specified by the AACTFest Handbook (Cycle 2007 edition) (“Handbook”), until after the awards presentation ceremony.

4. Adjudicator may not be connected with a theatre that has a production in the Festival.

5. The Adjudicator has read, understands and agrees to abide by the Handbook - Section 5.00 - Adjudicators, attached hereto and made a part of this contract.

6. At the conclusion of the Festival, XYZ shall pay the Adjudicator an honorarium of $____.00 for services stipulated and outlined in Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, above.

7. In addition, the Festival host shall provide lodging at the headquarters hotel; will pay the Adjudicator's reasonable meal expenses from the beginning of travel and return, __ (Month, day)____, 200__; will provide transportation, by prior mutual written agreement, to and from and the Adjudicator's home location; and also all transportation during the Festival to and from workshop and performance sites; and provide complimentary admission to all social and meal events during this period.

8. Adjudicator agrees to furnish XYZ no later than __ (month, day)____, 200__, a publicity photo and resume/bio for purposes of promoting XYZFest'0__, and agreeing to the use of said photo and information contained in the resume as part of the XYZFest'0__ promotional materials.

9. This Contract for Services will be considered an offer until signed by all parties thereto. Such offer may be withdrawn by XYZ if not signed by Adjudicator and returned to XYZ on or before __ (month, day)____, 200__.

10. Either party may terminate this agreement herein by giving a minimum of six weeks prior written notice to the other.

Please indicate agreement by signing below.

AACTFest Required Program Insert

K

The text of this insert is available in a basic unformatted text (.txt) file that can be copied into whatever software you use for producing your program. The file can either be downloaded from the AACT website (www.aact.org) or obtained by E-mail from the AACT Office.

STATEMENT OF CENSORSHIP

The American Association of Community Theatre supports a policy permitting the widest possible range of dramatic material to be performed in a festival of American community theatre. Performing companies are expected to exercise taste, good judgment, and respect for the values of the host theatre. Host theatres, if they have reason to believe a festival performance may be locally unacceptable, may notify their patrons in advance or publish a disclaimer, but in no case may the host refuse to allow the company to perform. Should the controlling body for the host theatre forbid said performance, the host group, with approval of the Festival Commission, shall provide an alternate performance space.

PRODUCTION TIMING

The total performance time of each individual production may not exceed 60 minutes, including set changes, time lapses and curtain calls. There is an additional 10 minute set-up time and 10 minute strike time from an "on-deck" area with all performers and stage personnel beginning and ending the set-up and strike in, or immediately adjacent to, the area. If the set-up and/or strike set mood, establish character, or "enter the world of the play" in any way, it is considered part of the 60 minute performance time.

GUIDELINES FOR ADJUDICATORS

Plays are to be judged on the overall production, the major elements of which are acting and directing. The choice of material is to be as unlimited as possible with musicals judged by the same standards as other dramatic material. Because of the difficulties of touring (unfamiliar stage and technical crew, minimal rehearsal time, travel distance), entering companies should consider the technical aspects of performing "on the road" when choosing material. A blank stage or a complex set can be equally effective, if appropriate to the material selected. Technical competence is to be given consideration as to its effectiveness as an integral part of the total production experience.

Any and all statements made by adjudicators are strictly their own opinion and do not necessarily represent the opinions of AACT or any other organization with which they may be associated.

CRITERIA FOR CONSIDERATION

- Is the acting believable and technically skillful with effective timing?
- Are the characters well interpreted?
- Does the company display ensemble work?
- Is the material appropriate for the company?
- Is the concept appropriate for the material and realized by the company?
- Has the structure of the production been controlled?
- Are the movements and stage pictures effective?
- Is the production well paced?
- Do the technical elements support the overall production?
- How effective was the total impact?

The preceding information is excerpted from the AACTFest Handbook. The complete Handbook must prevail in case of disagreement or confusion.

AACTFest Final Report

Please complete and send to the AACT office immediately after the Festival.

Anything which brings the audience into the world of the play (music, sound, lights, etc.) will begin the sixty-minute performance time. The complete cessation of such will complete the timing period. If a set-up or strike is intended to set mood, establish character, or entertain the audience in any way, it will be considered part of the sixty-minute performance time.

Each production is allowed a maximum of ten minutes set-up time and ten minutes strike time with timing beginning and ending with all actors, musicians, and on-stage personnel either in or, if necessary, immediately adjacent to the 100 square foot "on deck" area. Light and sound operators are exempt and are allowed to be in the operations booth for both set-up and strike.

AACT recommends shows for international festivals. Generally speaking, most international festivals want a 40-60 minute show that is movement or music oriented and/or telling a universally familiar story that can be understood and enjoyed by a multi-national audience that may not speak English. Individual festivals have specific criteria, but generally speaking, which of the productions in this festival, if any, might have possibilities? Please identify by writing "Int'l poss" to the left of the number(s). A production does not have to move on to be considered.

Signature _____

The first ballot will be taken after the final production's adjudication, without discussion and before any other awards are determined. If a majority vote is established on the first ballot for the "1," "2," and "3" positions, the adjudicators may then proceed to discussion of other awards. If there is no majority vote for "1" position, discussion may then take place before the next ballot. The "1" position must be determined before the "2" and "3" positions are determined. If on the first ballot the "1" position is determined, that position is finalized; the "1" production may not be moved to a lower position because of a discussion. If on the first ballot the "2" and "3" positions have a majority vote but the "1" does not, the "2" and "3" positions are not finalized and may be moved to other positions because of the discussion.

The first ballot will be taken after the final production's adjudication, without discussion and before any other awards are determined. If a majority vote is established on the first ballot for the "1," "2," and "3" positions, the adjudicators may then proceed to discussion of other awards. If there is no majority vote for "1" position, discussion may then take place before the next ballot. The "1" position must be determined before the "2" and "3" positions are determined. If on the first ballot the "1" position is determined, that position is finalized; the "1" production may not be moved to a lower position because of a discussion. If on the first ballot the "2" and "3" positions have a majority vote but the "1" does not, the "2" and "3" positions are not finalized and may be moved to other positions because of the discussion.

National AACTFest Recognition Awards

S

Below is a list of special recognition awards used at the National AACTFest. There is neither a minimum nor a maximum number to be given for any award. Other awards may be given if the adjudicators agree that there is some other achievement deserving special recognition. It is best to avoid giving awards that state or imply “best _____.” All special recognition awards are optional and no award needs to be given in a category where the adjudicators believe none is deserved.

National AACTFest Awards:

- Outstanding Performance by an Actor or Actress
- Outstanding Set Design
- Outstanding Costume Design
- Outstanding Lighting Design
- Outstanding Sound Design
- Outstanding Makeup and/or Hair Design
- Outstanding Musical Direction
- Outstanding Ensemble Performance
- Outstanding Direction
- Outstanding Choreography

There are certain special considerations that apply only to the national level festival. These considerations are:

- Production order for the National Festival will be scheduled by random drawing during the AACT Winter Board meeting in the year prior to the national festival. The Regional Representatives or, if absent, a designee will draw for the order.
- At the National Festival, the Festival Commission Chair and the Adjudicator Committee Chair will conduct the adjudicator orientation.
- The Festival Commission Chair will act as the Festival Commission Representative at the National Festival.
- At the National Festival, the host will present a mounted casting and a check for $650 to each entered company.
- The national adjudicators must be provided with a cast photograph of each participating company to facilitate identifying actors for any individual awards.

Schedule

An invitation to submit proposals to host the National Festival will be published in the Spring AACT Spotlight “all known theatres” issue of the even-numbered year approximately three years before the prospective festival. Each applicant will submit to the Festival Commission Chair:

- A letter of interest by July 31 of that year.
- A preliminary proposal to be reviewed by the AACT Executive Committee prior to its fall meeting, which may produce requests for additional information for the selection process.
- A final proposal, including a budget, by December 31.

Proposal Information & Schedule Criteria

Each applicant will present the final proposal to a combined meeting of the Festival Commission and the AACT Board at the time of the Winter Board Meeting approximately two years before the proposed festival. The festival site selection is normally made at this time by a vote of the combined bodies. People who are members of both bodies will only vote once.

The proposal to host a national festival should contain:

- Evidence of the proposing applicant’s stability in the community.
- Evidence of the community’s support.
- A statement regarding the relationship of the applicant with the state and local arts councils. For example: Is support available and is the organization in good standing with any of the applicable commissions?
- Hotel and housing availability and approximate costs.
- Transportation available to and within the city.
- City map with theatre, hotel, and transportation terminals marked.
- Specifics about the proposed theatre space including seating capacity, stage size and type, set storage capabilities, lighting equipment, offstage facilities, and staff (paid and/or volunteer).
- A video showing the interior and exterior of the facility.

Selection criteria includes the following:

- Theatre Space including: location, seating, physical plant, ground plan, handicapped accessibility, staff (full time, part time, volunteer).
- Meeting space for board, committees, workshops.
- Housing arrangements and rates.
- Transportation availability including: air, ground-to-city, ground-within-city.
- Preliminary budget.
- Preliminary schedule.
- Proposed registration fee.
- Organizational plan with number of volunteers.
- Co-hosts, co-sponsors.
- Community support and resources.
- Relationship with local and state arts councils.
- 501(c)(3) or other tax determination status.
- AACT membership.
- Festival experience including festivals hosted, attended, entered.
- Video of the theatre space.

Each national festival host is responsible for the following:

FINANCIAL: There is a substantial fee for hosting the National AACTFest in addition to travel expenses for participating theatre companies. Contact the AACT Office for information regarding specific fees.

Other financial requirements include:

- Providing for adjudicators' travel, housing, and meals.
- Mounting and tagging castings provided by AACT, for each of the twelve Regional productions selected plus one for the national host group.
- Producing and mailing two different brochures.
- Providing audio-visual equipment, supplies, facilitator expenses, etc. for workshops.
- Responsibility for any other required expenses.
- Responsibility for all income.

PAPERWORK:

- Providing a budget to be updated and re-submitted as part of the regular report at each AACT Board meeting after the selection.
- Providing a final accounting.
- Signing a statement of agreement with AACT, which specifies the responsibilities of each organization, and that the host will follow all festival rules and procedures set forth in the AACTFest Handbook.

PHYSICAL SPACE:

- Providing space for all scheduled workshops.
- Providing space for committee, board, and annual meetings.

CEREMONIES:

- Conducting opening and closing ceremonies as agreed with the Festival Commission Chair and Awards Committee Chair (as necessary).

The National Festival is usually set for the third weekend in June. Any wish to deviate from this should be explained in the proposal.

AACT will:

- Advertise the festival in Spotlight.
- Provide the award castings.
- Provide a mailing list for the brochures.
- Pay honorarium to each of the adjudicators.
- Direct the selection of workshops.

Festival Commission Adjudication Committee will:

- Select the adjudicators.

After receiving the initial letter of interest, the Festival Commission Chair will send the applicant a more detailed information packet for use in preparing the proposal.

Unless stated otherwise, the host is responsible for all expenses and retains all income.
